

Coaching Packages

Meridian offers three ongoing packages and a single session option with no commitment. Every package includes the Meridian Baseline Assessment at intake and is delivered by the same primary coach for the length of the engagement.

Foundations

Foundations costs four hundred fifty dollars per month and includes two fifty-minute sessions per month, the Baseline Assessment at intake, and email support between sessions with a forty-eight hour response window. Foundations is billed month to month with no minimum commitment, and is the right starting point for a client who wants structure without a heavy weekly cadence.

Momentum

Momentum costs eight hundred fifty dollars per month and includes four fifty-minute sessions per month, delivered weekly. It includes the Baseline Assessment at intake and a midpoint reassessment, priority email support with a twenty-four hour response window, and one fifteen-minute check-in call included each month between full sessions.

Executive

Executive costs one thousand six hundred fifty dollars per month and includes four fifty-minute sessions per month plus unlimited asynchronous messaging with the assigned coach. It adds a quarterly ninety-minute deep-dive session, a personalized action-tracking dashboard, and a dedicated senior coach rather than assignment from the general roster.

Add-Ons and Single Sessions

A single session with no ongoing package costs two hundred seventy-five dollars. Couples coaching can be added to any package for an additional one hundred fifty dollars per month, covering joint sessions in addition to the individual sessions already included.

Policies That Apply to Every Package

New clients on any package are covered by a fourteen day money-back guarantee: if a client is not satisfied after their first session, the first month is refunded in full with no reason required. Outside that first-month window, packages are non-refundable but can be cancelled at any time with thirty days of notice.

A package can be paused for up to six weeks within any twelve-month engagement, provided the pause is requested at least five business days in advance. Momentum and Executive both carry a three-month minimum commitment from the start date; Foundations has no minimum and can be cancelled following the standard thirty-day notice policy at any time.